JESSE MALIN

January 2002 To Present

Since embarking on a full time solo career in January 2002 Jesse's band has been constantly changing & has seen him work with many different musicians both in the studio & live, with a band line up that has change on almost every tour.

This family tree is by no means definitive or even perfectly accurate for that matter, but I have researched as much as possible the time lines & the various members of each band & have tried to illustrate this as accurately as possible with the limited space I have available here.
